

Welcome

Welcome to the Medicaid Buy-In program for Working People with Disabilities Toolkit!

Enclosed you will find everything you need to prepare to apply for the Medicaid Buy-In program for Working People with Disabilities (MBI-WPD).

The Medicaid Buy-In for Working People with Disabilities is a program that started on July 1, 2003 that allows working New Yorkers with disabilities to earn more income without the risk of losing their Medicaid coverage. In New York State, people with disabilities can continue working, or return to work without fear of losing their essential health care coverage through Medicaid.

Traditionally, New Yorkers with disabilities have had to limit their wages, or pay high “spenddowns” in order to retain or access Medicaid. Through New York State’s Medicaid Buy-In program for Working People with Disabilities, they will no longer have to do either.

What this means for thousands of New Yorkers with disabilities is independence, recovery, and support in achieving goals. In the past, if you had a disability and worked, it was easy to earn too much and lose your health benefits. Now, the rules have changed.

This toolkit is designed to help you decide whether or not you would like to apply for the MBI-WPD program and assist you in completing some important steps of the application process. It can also give you some idea about whether or not you may be eligible.

If you complete the steps in this toolkit, your application will be ready before you step foot in a Department of Social Services office or in New York City, the Human Resources Administration (HRA)/Medicaid office, and you will be informed about the Medicaid Buy-In program for Working People with Disabilities and the process of applying for it.

The steps and information enclosed in this toolkit were steps used by people who applied and successfully obtained Medicaid Buy-In program for Working People with Disabilities benefits.

Section 1: Learn About the Program

Frequently Asked Questions

Why is the Medicaid Buy-In program for Working People with Disabilities important?

According to a national survey, the #1 reason that people with disabilities gave for not working was fear of losing their essential medical benefits. This program allows people to keep their benefits, meet their medical needs and to continue working. Medicaid coverage is more comprehensive than many other programs including private health insurance. Medicaid covers the medical costs of prescriptions, long-term care, and ongoing medical supplies. Medicare and some private health insurance companies do not cover all of these costs.

Why is it called the Medicaid Buy-In program for Working People with Disabilities?

The term “Buy-In” is used because you are buying in (paying a premium) to the Medicaid program. If your net available income is below 150% of the Federal Poverty Level (FPL), you will not have to pay any premium to get Medicaid through the MBI-WPD program. If your net available income is at least 150% but at or below 250% of the FPL, you will have to pay a premium to obtain your Medicaid through the MBI-WPD program. However, New York State is not collecting premiums at the present time.

What is the difference between the Basic Group and the Medical Improvement Group?

For both groups you must meet the age, work, citizenship or satisfactory immigration status, residency, income and resource requirements. Additionally, for the Basic Group you must have certification of a disability. To be eligible for the Medical Improvement Group, you must have lost eligibility under the Basic Group due to medical improvement. In the Medical Improvement Group, you must be working a minimum of 40 hours per month at no less than federal minimum wage.

What is considered work?

Work is any activity for which you receive payment. This can be full time or part time. You can even be self-employed.

How much money do I have to make in order to apply?

Under the Basic Group of the MBI-WPD program, there are no requirements on how many hours you work, or how much you are being paid. Under the Medical Improvement Group, you must work a minimum of 40 hours per month earning at least the federal minimum wage.

Can I get Medicaid through the Medicaid Buy-In program for Working People with Disabilities if I get Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) benefits?

If you are working, and meet all of the other eligibility requirements, yes, you can get the Medicaid Buy-In program for Working People with Disabilities.

How come 250% of the Federal Poverty Level is approximately $27,225 , yet I can earn up to $55,476?

When you apply for the MBI-WPD program, your income is put through a budgeting methodology used by the Social Security Administration. In that test, there are deductions from both your earned and unearned income. During this process, much more of your earned income is deducted in order to attain your net available income, while very little is deducted from your unearned income. This allows people to work more, and still keep their benefits. If all of your income comes from earned income, you can earn up to $55,476 * gross. If most of your income is unearned, then you would only be able to make $27,225* per year to qualify.

*The dollar amounts quoted are the Federal Poverty Levels for 2011; these amounts change annually.

Will I have to pay Medicaid co-pays and deductibles?

All of the standard Medicaid co-pays and deductibles apply with the Medicaid Buy-In program for Working People with Disabilities.

Is this the same as the Medicare “Buy-In” Program (Medicare Savings Program)?

No. The Medicaid Buy-In program for Working People with Disabilities (MBI-WPD) is a program that launched July 1, 2003. The MBI-WPD program provides Medicaid health care coverage for working people with disabilities. The Medicare Savings Program (MSP) assists people who are on Medicare through age or disability by paying their monthly Medicare premiums. See the comparison chart included in this toolkit for more information.

How do I go about getting the MBI-WPD program?

You can apply for the MBI-WPD at your Local Department of Social Services (LDSS). This toolkit will help you in the process of preparing to apply for the Medicaid Buy-In program for Working People with Disabilities.

Are there any services available to help me decide if I would like to apply for the Medicaid Buy-In program for Working People with Disabilities?

Your local Work Incentive Planning and Assistance (WIPA) can provide you with information about the MBI-WPD, and help you decide if you should apply. It is especially important if you are in receipt of Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) to seek advice prior to applying for the MBI-WPD program. A list of local WIPAs for your area is enclosed in this toolkit.

What if I am working and have not been on any benefits for some time?

It is not a requirement that you be on any kind of assistance or receive any kind of benefits in order to qualify for the MBI-WPD. As long as you are working and meet the Social Security guidelines for disability, you may qualify for the MBI-WPD.

What if I am working, have a disability, and have never received SSI or SSDI?

You can still qualify for the MBI-WPD program if you are determined disabled by the Local or State Disability Review Team and you meet all the other eligibility requirements.

How much can I have in resources?

You can have countable resources up to $20,000 for a one-person household and $30,000 for a two-person household. This does NOT include your home or vehicle. Your Local Department of Social Services can tell you what other resources are exempt. See the Resources Worksheet in this toolkit for further information about resources.

What if I am already getting Medicaid through spenddown?

If you are on the spenddown program and working, you should talk with your Social Services caseworker about the MBI-WPD program. In most cases, you will save money by enrolling in the MBI-WPD program. If you apply for the MBI-WPD program, you should keep meeting your spenddown while you are waiting for a decision on your MBI-WPD application.

What application can I use to apply for the Medicaid Buy-In program for Working People with Disabilities?

The following application forms will be accepted for the MBI-WPD program provided the application form is completed and signed by the applicant

- The Access New York Health Care Form DOH-4220 (2/10) and the Access NY Supplement A form DOH-4495A (2/10). Be sure to check the box for MBI-WPD on page 1 under section B. of the Access NY Supplement A form.
 - You may access these forms online at
 - www.health.state.ny.us/forms/doh-4220all.pdf
 - www.health.state.ny.us/forms/doh-4495a.pdf
- Medicaid Renewal (Recertification) Form

It is recommended that you write “MBI-WPD” on the top right hand corner of the application to help route your application.

Is there follow-up I need to do after handing in my application to a specific worker at social services?

If you receive a request for missing information, you need to get all requested information to the LDSS office as quickly as possible (within 10 days) in order for your application to be processed. You can call your eligibility worker at the LDSS and make sure your application is complete.

How long does the application process take?

You should receive your notification within 90 days.

What do I need to apply for the MBI-WPD program?

You need to submit to the LDSS the application forms described above and any required documentation. Please refer to the “Medicaid Documentation List” enclosed in this toolkit. It will be a guide to what you will need when applying for the MBI-WPD program. Your application may be submitted in person or by mail to the LDSS. Certain documents will also need to be submitted. In some cases, original documents or certified copies may need to be seen by the LDSS. Please contact your LDSS or call 1-800-698-4543 to find out where you can bring identity and U.S. citizenship documents if required by the LDSS. A local district worker can guide you as to the best way to submit original documents should they be required for an eligibility decision for the MBI-WPD program. Other documents may be mailed with the application.

Does the MBI-WPD cover my children or other family members?

No. The MBI-WPD program is only for individuals or couples who are disabled and working. There are other programs offered by the Local Department of Social Services that cover children and other family members.

Section 2: Are You Eligible?

This questionnaire can help you decide if you may be eligible for the MBI-WPD program. Please remember that the final determination of eligibility is made by the LDSS.

To qualify for the MBI-WPD program you must:

- Work in an activity for which you are receive payment; and
- Live in New York State; and
- Be at least 16 but under 65 years of age; and
- Be certified disabled by either the Social Security Administration (SSA) or the State or Local Disability Review Team; and
- Be a U.S. Citizen, a National, a Native American or an immigrant with satisfactory immigration status; and
- Meet the income and resource limits; and
- Pay a premium, if required.

If you think you meet these qualifications, take the Self-Interview.

Part A: Self-Interview Worksheet

1. Are you working? Yes No
2. Are you a resident of New York State? Yes No
3. Are you between the ages of 16 and 64? Yes No

If you answered No to any of questions 1 – 3, you are not eligible. If you answered Yes to questions 1 – 3, please continue.

4. Have you been determined to be disabled by the Social Security Administration's guidelines? Yes No

If No, you must be reviewed by the State Disability Review Team in order to determine your disability status. You can use the Medical Evidence List enclosed in this toolkit for items that will be needed to support your disability status.

5. Are you a U.S. Citizen, a National, a Native American? Yes No

If No, you must bring immigration documents to the LDSS so they can determine if you have satisfactory immigration status.

Part B: The Income Test Worksheet

When completing this section of your toolkit, remember, you must report all income to the LDSS. Income is any payment received from any source. Income may be recurring, a one time payment, earned or unearned. Keep in mind that when the LDSS is determining your eligibility, the amount of your income that is counted may be considerably less than your gross income. Remember only a LDSS worker can determine which income deductions you may be eligible for.

Your Earned Income:

Earned income is a payment received as a result of work activity. Examples of earned income are wages and salaries, tips, commissions, bonuses, earned income credit and income from casual employment. This would include any earnings from self-employment. Refer to the enclosed "Medicaid Documentation List" for examples of proof of income (i.e. current pay stubs/checks, a written statement from an employer, income tax return, etc.).

Your Unearned Income:

Unearned income is any income that you receive that you have not worked for. This includes any bank interest, annuity payments, lottery winnings or any other income that you are receiving that is not connected to work activity including Social Security Disability, Veterans benefits or retirement benefits.

MONTHLY UNEARNED INCOME	MONTHLY EARNED INCOME
$ _____ Total Unearned Income -$20.00 Unearned income disregard = $ _____ Net Unearned Income	$ _____ Total Earned income -$65.00 Earned income disregard = $ _____ Remainder - $ _____ ½ Remainder = $ _____ Net Earned Income
Net Income After SSI Budgeting
$ _____ Net Unearned Income + $ _____ Net Earned Income $ _____ Total Net Income	250% FPL = $2,269*monthly if > 250% FPL – Ineligible for MBI-WPD

The last number is your approximate net available income. If that figure is at or below $2,269.00*, you meet the income eligibility requirements for the MBI-WPD.

If that figure is over $2,269.00*, you are still encouraged to apply for the MBI-WPD program, as there are other Impairment Related Work Expenses (IRWEs) or income deductions you may qualify for. Only the Medicaid eligibility worker can tell you for sure.

*The dollar amounts quoted are the Federal Poverty Levels for 2011. The figure for couples is $3,065 monthly.

*These amounts change annually and can be found on the Department of Health's website at: www.nyhealth.gov/health_care/medicaid/program/buy_in/index.htm

Part C: Resources Worksheet What They Are and How They Affect Me

Countable Resources include stocks, bonds, vacation homes, bank accounts, etc. Their value is determined and then added up. With the Medicaid Buy-In program for Working People with Disabilities, you can keep up to $20,000 for a one-person household and $30,000 for a two-person household.

Cash on Hand	_____
Checking/Savings Account	_____
Stocks/Bonds	_____
Other	_____

Exempt resources are not counted. These exempt resources include:

- Your homestead
- Your vehicle
- Approved Plan for Achieving Self-Support (PASS)
- Term life insurance policies with no cash surrender value
- Whole life insurance policies with a combined face value of $1,500 or less

Beginning October 1, 2011, retirement accounts that previously would have been counted as a resource will no longer be counted when eligibility for the MBI-WPD program is determined. Retirement accounts that will no longer be counted are annuities or work-related plans for providing income when employment ends. They include but are not limited to: pensions; Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs); 401(k) plans and Keogh plans.

There are other resources that are not counted. It is best to check with your Local Department of Social Services to see which resources are exempt.

PASS Plan

A Plan to Achieve Self-Support (PASS) is a work incentive that allows an individual with a disability to set aside and exclude income and/or resources to meet an occupational objective.

PASS can be used to reduce countable income for eligibility for the SSI program or for Medicaid programs, including the MBI-WPD program.

PASS allows an individual to set aside money for short-term objectives like saving money for education, vocational training, starting a business or for a work-related item such as a computer or even a custom van. A PASS plan is simply a way to get the services and items needed for work, not the way to make income available for everyday expenses. The SSA PASS can insure eligibility for SSI as well as the automatic Medicaid that SSI provides. It may even allow individuals to receive higher SSI payments as they work towards self-sufficiency. For further information on the PASS used by SSA, see SSA's Red Book on work incentives (<http://www.socialsecurity.gov/redbook/eng/resources-supports.htm>), SSA's pamphlet entitled Working While Disabled – A Plan for Achieving Self-Support (SSA Publication No. 05-11017) that is available online at www.ssa.gov/pubs/11017.html, Cornell

University's website <http://www.ilr.cornell.edu/edi/pass/index.cfm> or visit your local SSA office.

As with the SSI program, the Medicaid program allows the use of a PASS. The PASS used by the Medicaid program is based on similar principles and requirements as the SSA PASS, which is used to create eligibility for the Supplemental Security Income (SSI) program.

PASS Requirements for the Medicaid Program

- A PASS must be approved by the Commissioner of the Local Department of Social Services, who must review and approve the plan and any subsequent plan changes. The SSA-545 form must be used.
- A self-paced tutorial on PASS and an on-line application can be found at www.passonline.org. Note: The on-line application for a Medicaid PASS cannot be transmitted electronically; a hard copy must be printed and submitted to the Local Department of Social Services.
- The plan must indicate exactly how the money will be set aside and the specific time period in which the goal is to be achieved.
- The plan must be current.
- The individual must perform in accordance with the plan.
- A PASS approved by the Local Department of Social Services Commissioner is limited to 18 months with the possibility of an extension for an additional 18 months. A further extension of 12 months may be allowed in the case of a lengthy training program. The PASS must have a reasonable start and end date and must contain target milestone dates. The end date may be adjusted depending on the progress toward the goal and the earnings-level reached.
- The applicant should also keep in mind that progress on the PASS will be monitored. If the applicant fails to comply with all terms and conditions of the approved plan, the PASS may be discontinued.

SSA PASS APPLICATION for the SSI Program

- If you have any questions about PASS, you can reach a Social Security PASS Specialist in the New York Region at 1-800-510-5680 or by email (see <http://www.socialsecurity.gov/redbook/eng/resources-supports.htm#2>).
- At <http://www.ilr.cornell.edu/edi/pass/index.cfm> you will find a detailed explanation of the PASS program as well as a helpful guide and an on-line application form.
- If you would like further assistance in completing the PASS application, you should contact the local Work Incentive Planning and Assistance (WIPA). If you are currently on SSI or SSDI, benefits planning is available free of charge from any of the benefits planners on the WIPA list. A copy of this list has been included in this toolkit and is also available online at <https://secure.ssa.gov/apps10/oesp/providers.nsf/bystate>.

Example II – Eligibility for SSI and Automatic Medicaid :

Jan is an SSDI recipient who has muscular dystrophy and is confined to a wheelchair. Jan receives a monthly SSDI check of $680. She is currently working and earning $365 per month. Jan would like to attend college and become a teacher. The amount that she will have to pay per semester is $2,000. Jan applied to SSA for a PASS and was approved. She is planning on putting $660 per month into her PASS account to put toward the cost of her education.

UNEARNED INCOME	EARNED INCOME

$660.00 Unearned Income +$150.00 Earned Income $810.00 Total Income	SSI Benefit Rate in NYS = $761 (figure for 2011) > SSI BR - Ineligible for SSI
$810.00 Total Income -$660.00 PASS deduction $150.00 Net Income after PASS deduction	< SSI BR – Eligible for SSI which includes automatic Medicaid

These examples illustrate how a PASS can benefit an individual by making it possible for the individual to pursue a work goal and eventually move from benefit dependence to financial independence.

Navigating the Local Department of Social Services System

To apply for the Medicaid Buy-In program for Working People with Disabilities, you will need to submit your application to your Local Department of Social Services (LDSS).

Here are some tips to help you with the application process:

Know your facts about the MBI-WPD program. This toolkit will help you learn all you need to know about the MBI-WPD. Learn all you can about the program.

Be Prepared A personal interview is no longer required for application; however, if you would like an interview, you may request one by calling your LDSS. You may also call your LDSS with any questions you have regarding the application form and ask them for assistance if you need it.

Gather Documentation to establish your eligibility for the MBI-WPD program. Carefully review the “Medicaid Documentation List” found in this document or the list in the Access New York DOH 4220 form to determine the documents that you will need to submit with your application. You may bring the required documents when you go to the Local Department of Social Services or you may contact the LDSS to find out how to submit the documentation by mail with your application.

Document Your Actions. Make sure you take names of everyone you speak with, or meet with, and make sure that you write down any problems you experience along with the dates and times they occur. Try to get the problem resolved with your eligibility worker, if necessary ask to speak with a supervisor.

Know your rights. An applicant should not accept a verbal decision from a worker. A Medicaid eligibility determination must be in writing. An applicant has the right to:

- Be told about the programs and help they can get.
- Be told what they need to do to get these programs.
- Apply for these programs.
- Get an application when they ask for one.
- Have an interview if preferred.
- Get written notice telling them if their application is approved or denied.

Follow-up. Make sure that your application is complete. It is recommended that you follow-up with your eligibility worker 10 days after your application is submitted to make sure that nothing further is required.

If you need help with the process, contact your Local Department of Social Services or Work Incentive Planning and Assistance (WIPA). WIPAs are contracted with the Social Security Administration to provide benefits counseling, planning, assistance and outreach free of charge. There is a list enclosed with this toolkit. If you already have assistance with your benefits, go to the person with whom you are the most comfortable.

If your application for Medicaid/MBI-WPD program is denied, you have the right to request a Fair Hearing. Instructions on how to ask for a Fair Hearing are on the denial form issued by the local Medicaid office. An applicant can ask for a Fair Hearing in writing, in person, over the internet or by calling the State-wide toll free number at 1-800-342-3334.

NOTES

Part D: Documentation to Establish Disability

Medical Evidence

If you have not been determined to have a disability, the State Disability Review Team will have to review medical information about you that supports your disability claim.

You must provide:

- All available medical information from physicians, psychologists, hospitals, therapists, counselors, etc.
- Medical evidence (medical records including office notes, treatment records, lab results and medications) for a period up to 12 months prior to the date of application and cover the timeframe for which the disability determination is being sought.
